

Nicole Lee

In her role leading the Singles Ministry at the Stonecrest church, Nicole Lee has worked to strengthen relationships among the congregation's single members, and with other singles throughout metro-Atlanta.

Nicole played a key role in organizing three Singles Seminars at Stonecrest and has partnered with the congregations at Camp Creek, Renaissance, and Simpson Street to develop joint events that enhance fellowship among single Christians.

Professionally, she has worked in philanthropy for more than 16 years, primarily fundraising for colleges and K-12 schools. Prior to entering the fundraising profession, Nicole worked for a decade as a print journalist in Georgia, Indiana, and New York, winning awards from the Associated Press and the Atlanta Association of Black Journalists.

Nicole earned a bachelor's degree in Print Journalism from Georgia State University and a Master of Public Administration degree from Kennesaw State University.

She also volunteers with the Junior League of DeKalb County, the National Council of Negro Women (DeKalb section), the Fabulous Female Fundraisers group, and the Greater Atlanta Association of Fundraising Professionals.

Nicole is excited to support the 2026 Issachar Conference and to share that unmarried Christians are already whole and should not consider marriage as the only way to have a fulfilling life. In her lesson "Single and Solid," she will also expound on ways in which church culture can evolve to support singles.
