

About Andrew M. Braxter

Andrew M. “Drew” Braxter is a native of Montgomery, Alabama and has been preaching for as long as he can remember. He believes that he and the prophet Jeremiah share a similar history with God putting His word in his mouth long before he was formed in his mother’s womb. On July 12, 1998, he was added to the body of Christ at the New Harvest Church of Christ in Montgomery, Alabama, and on December 20, 1998, he preached his first sermon. Since his calling into the preaching ministry, God has taken him to heights unimagined. He thanks God for the gift that has been placed on his life and believes that it has truly brought him before great men and women of all creeds, colors, and convictions.

Drew is a firm believer in education, especially Christian Education. He has earned a Bachelor of Science in Religious Studies from Southwestern Christian College in Terrell, Texas and is also completing a Master of Divinity from Harding School of Theology in Memphis, Tennessee. He also has plans of earning a Doctor of Ministry and a PhD in African-American Preaching and Sacred Rhetoric upon completion of the MDiv. In addition to continuing his education, he also serves Harding University as the Director for Church Outreach.

Drew’s ministry has been blessed on so many levels, and he attributes all of his success to staying faithful to his mighty good God. On a local level he has been blessed to serve churches in Alabama, Texas, Tennessee, Oklahoma and currently serves as the Senior Minister to the Rose City Community Church of Christ in North Little Rock, Arkansas. God has even blessed him to preach regionally and nationally on various special days, revivals, conferences, and lectureships. More than any other accomplishment or achievement, Drew is most proud that God has chosen him to be used as His servant. He believes he has been called into a ministry that is more than just a declaration from his lips but is truly demonstrated through his life.

When asked to describe himself, Drew says, “I am simply a son, a student and a servant.”
